PRESENTER BIOGRAPHIES

MAJOR-GENERAL DIMAKATSO ELLEN NDABA

Is the Head of SAPS Visible Policing. In 2015, she became the first female commander to take over the Hillbrow policing cluster. In 2002, she was appointed station commander of Diepkloof and moved to several other stations including Eldorado Park and Kliptown, before she was promoted as the Orlando Cluster Commander. It was under her leadership, in Soweto, that many witnessed the arrest of Jackie Marohanye, also known as Mama Jackie, a controversial Soweto school principal who was arrested for kidnapping and fraud.

MAJOR-GENERAL CHARITY NONHLANHLA ZULU

Is the Head of Specialised Operations in the SAPS Operational Response Services. She is actively involved in the SAPS Command Group in relation to COVID-19. Zulu was previously Deputy Provincial Commissioner for Policing in Limpopo and has 28 years experience in the policing sector. She holds diplomas, degrees and certificates from Technikon Natal South Africa and WITS University.

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR SADHANA MANIK

Is located in the Department of Geography Education in the School of Education at the University of KwaZulu-Natal (UKZN), South Africa. Her research interests include Inequalities in society ( intersections of gender, poverty, race and citizenship), mobility and migration, Geography education and success in higher education. She has served as an advisor ( to the Commonwealth Education sector and The Ramphal Commission on Migration and Development), has published extensively and served as an editor of several special editions in her research niche areas. Her latest book chapter in press ( 2020) is titled: 'Unwanted but needed' in South Africa: Post pandemic Imaginations on Black immigrant entrepreneurs owning 'spaza shops'

She is the co-ordinator of the global south for SANORD's Teacher Education Project, a special interest group of the global universities network, SANORD. She is the project leader at UKZN for two international higher education collaborations which involve the exchange of students, teachers and researchers between UKZN, South Africa and Western Norway University of Applied Sciences (HVL), Norway. Most recently, she was awarded 'excellence in teaching' by UKZN in 2018 and featured in the 'top 30 most published researcher' list in the College of Humanities at UKZN in 2019.

DR BRONWYNNE ANDERSON

Is a senior lecturer at the University of KwaZulu-Natal, Edgewood Campus. She specialises in Gender Education with a focus on Gender Justice, Women and Leadership and Gender and Education. Her research focuses on gender-based violence in schools and Higher Education Institutions, young people and sexuality and the constructions of masculinities and femininities. She lectures postgraduate Honours students on gender regimes in school, problematic gender norms and stereotypes that perpetuate inequalities between men and women/boys and girls so as to create awareness and provide knowledge on their gendered identities. Gender Education as a discipline engages pre-service and in-service teachers to identify the harmful effects of patriarchy and in turn work towards destabilising and dismantling harmful and polarised notions of masculinity and femininity. She is currently supervising Masters and Doctoral students on gender- based violence on university campuses and residences.
